document in the pardon clerk's office in which Brandt states the grounds on which he applied for a pardon from Gov. Dix.It is believed Gov. Sulzer will pardon Brandt. The Governor displayed deep interest in the case shortly after his election in November. At a dinner given about that time, Mr. Sulzer spoke about Brandt to Dist. Atty.
Whitman asking if he didn't think the sentence imposed upon Brandt was brutal. To this question Mr.
Whitman is said to have replied:"My opinion about that matter is on record in Albany. All that I cared to say about the case was said then.
I do not intend to get into the case again."If Gov. Sulzer commutes Brandt's sentence to a term of from five to thirty years the board of parole will have the power to set Brandt free at any time.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO (Cal.), Jan. 9.—A programme of preventive measures, outlined by the State Board of Health, will be introduced in both houses of the Legislature within a few days, according to former Senator Lewis H.
Roseberry of Santa Barbara, attorney for the board.The board wishes laws providing:
Certification of hospitals; jurisdiction over pollution of salt water; jurisdiction over proposed water supplies for cities.

A cold storage registration.

The hospital act is intended to drive out hospitals of dubious practices.
San Jose, Petaluma and Los Angeles, the board reports, all pollute salt water with their sewage, and that from San Jose is said to harm the Alviso oyster beds.

about the first representative of the four hundred to interest herself in a boycott on French styles. She, with other prominent society women, have determined to wear only costumes a beautiful woman and has for several years been a leader in New York andNewport society. She is noted for her attractive frocks and spends much of her time in France. In fact, before the boycott was inaugurated,

she made yearly trips to Paris to buy

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BINGHAMTON (N. Y.), Jan. 9.—

[Exclusive Dispatch.] Justice Glad-

ding this afternoon denied the motion of Roger P. Clark, acting for O'Gorman, Battle and Marshall, of
New York, for an order to dismis-the service of papers on Mrs. Cecile J. Garnsey at the Hotel Belloc, New York, in a separation suit brought against her by her husband, Leman T. Garnsey, of Los Angeles.The motion was opposed by Newell & Rhodes, attorneys for Mr. Garnsey.

Mr. Garnsey went to Los Angeles in 1886, and soon became a pioneer in many of the large realty and corporate enterprises in that city and vicinity. Ultimately, he became president of the Los Angeles and Re-dondo Railroad Company, which afterwards became one of the Huntington Railroad properties, holding that and the presidency of the au-xiary company for about sixteen years. Mr. Garnsey was either pre-sident or director in eight or nine corporations in that locality. He owned some of the finest property and homes, belonged to the Californian and Jonathan Clubs, and was con-sidered a pusher and hustler in many leading business enterprises. He re-turned to Binghamton believing that here he would find more contentment and better health and meet many of his old friends and asso-ciates of his early days when he had a part in the successful business life of the city as a wholesale fruit merchant.

The action for separation was brought because, he says, Mrs. Gar-nsey prefers Paris, New York and other cities and has absolutely re-fused to live in Binghamton except for a short period each year, under an allowance of $200 a week and other contingencies, including large expense accounts. Because he has decided to make his future home in Binghamton among his many old and tried friends, Mr. Garnsey says he felt that he could not comply with the conditions demanded.United States Senator O'Gorman's firm, representing Mrs. Garnsey, de-clared she had never been served with the papers, and that the papers were brought to her by a hotel ser-vant. Mrs. Garnsey is described as coming of blue-blood stock and has traveled extensively.WOMEN TO MARCH as they proceed southward, the wom-an plan to announce Washington in time to add themselves to the ranks of marchers in the woman suffrage pa-who tramped the entire distance to Albany, "Gen. Jones and "Col. Mis-sida A. Craft, have promised to make the Washington journey, and one or two others are in the "probable" class tonight.The start will be made on the New York side of the Hudson River at 8:45

a. m., one month from tomorrow. By easy advances each day the "army" will pass through New Jersey, Dela-ware, Pennsylvania and Maryland.
There will be campaigning for votes along the way. Rallies will be held in Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities.

of more than $20,000,000 have been made by the First Nationorganization with a capital of $500,- 000 in 1862, according to the testimony today of George F. Baker, chairman of the board of directors of the bank, before the House Money Trust Committee.Mr. Baker told the committee the bank had paid dividends of 228 per cent, or more than twice the total capitalization, which now is $10,000,- 000, in the four years since 1908.Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, calculated from the summary supplied by Mr. Baker, that since he later assumed the presidency of the institution in 1873 the bank has paid dividends of 18,550 per cent. on its original capitalization.Mr. Baker flatly opposed the suggestion of Mr. Untermyer that national banks be requested to make public their assets, declaring that he saw no possible good that could come of such a provision.

light that the flakes disappeared as others, like Oroville and all the towns along the foothills, the snowfall was from three to six inches deep. The weather was also cold, the mercury dropping below 40.

Tribunal in Hawaii Scores State Court.

AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.

HONOLULU, Jan. 9.—By a decision

here today reversing a find-first Circuit Court of the State, Judge Henry E. Cooper

has decided that it is possible for John

Hanna, of San Francisco, and Adolph, to reopen the Spreckels will case, involving the Hawaiian property which amounts to approximately $174,000. Suit was brought in 1912, under instructions from John D. and Adolph Spreckels to their interest in a sale then made here of property left by their father, John D. Spreckels, of San Francisco. A deal then almost was broken off.

The decision today applied to the Hawaiian property, the court said. The decision, appeal can only be made to the United States Supreme Court. The decision would be to order the California Supreme Court, in matters of State law, to interpret its will, and if its interpretation differed from that of the State court, there would be a possibility of reopening the case in Cal-

Long-Term Prisoner at Folsom May

Receive Death Penalty by Assault on Another.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—Albert Lopez, serving a two-year term from

Folsom county for burglary, was cut five times and seriously injured during an altercation at Folsom State

Prison today by Albert Seavis, a life

termer, from Sacramento county.

With a case knife Seavis furiously attacked Lopez, and, before he could be overpowered by the guards inflicted wounds on the left arm, right wrist and right arm. Seavis is a giant in stature, while Lopez, being smaller, was easily overpowered.

Seavis took part in the prison break of 1903, but was recaptured and sentenced for life. Under the law a lifetermer who attacks a fellow-prisoner is subject to the death penalty. The case will be brought to the attention of the District Attorney of Sacramento county for action.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Police

Judge Charles L. Weller, whose recall is threatened by a women's club for his action in reducing the bail of a man charged with the attempted betrayal of a young girl, announced today that he would address a mass

Seattle Is Improving.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Jan. 9.—Statistics published today show a death rate for Seattle last year of 8.53 per thousand, being a reduction of thirty-four one-hundredths per thousand from the rate of 1911.

In 1911 Seattle had the lowest death rate of any city in the world, Sydney,

Australia, being second.

The bill contains a clause excluding the common drinking cup. It provides for a county health inspector who shall have charge of the sanitary matters in his respective county. The bill has the active support of Progressive leaders in both houses and as the State Board of Health is behind it, it will probably be enacted into law.

The Conservation Commission will introduce a bill to amplify and extend the State conservation system.

Assemblyman Clark of Bishop will far out slight opposition has de-will probably be ratified by a good-sized majority.

Senator Gates and several other

Legislators from Los Angeles county do not agree with certain provisions in the county's new organic law, but they say they will vote for its ratification just the same, if it is definitely adopted.

Hanna says if the action on the charter is delayed the county will have to make provisions for various departments in the county government which are entirely inadequate.

If the charter goes through the county will have power to make the necessary changes. Hanna added that if the bill goes through it will do away with many bond elections and save the county thousands of dollars annually.

Hanna will also ask one of the Los Angeles lawmakers to introduce a bill which does away with the $50-

Schlitz Brown Bottle

Scientists Praise It

WAHL-HENIUS INSTITUTE OF FERMENTOLOGY

1135-1147 FULLERTON AVENUE

Chicago

April 1, 1911

Mr. Alfred Uihlein
Schlitz Brewing Co.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear Sir:

Answering your favor of recent date in regard to the influence of light on the quality of beer, will say that our observations, extending over the last twenty-five years, have convinced us beyond a doubt that exposure of beer to light has a very detrimental influence on its quality generally, but especially upon the flavor of the beer.

Not all beers are alike susceptible to this influence of light, pale strong hopped beers of the "Pilsen" character, that is, the type that is most favored in America, being especially susceptible, and acquiring, when only exposed for a few minutes to the sunlight, a disagreeable odor.

We have tested beers repeatedly in this direction placing the bottles into direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable, on account of the peculiar odor developed.

The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are therefore recommended.

Authorities on the subject of the detrimental influence of light on beer are:

C. Lintner, Lehrbuch der Bierbrauerei 1875, S. 343
Beck, Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen, 1882, S. 370
V. Huth, Der Bierbrauer 1876, S. 127
Ney, Allg. Zeitschr. f. Bierbr. u. Malsfabr., 1878, S. 273

The latest and most exhaustive series of experiments on this subject are those by the well known scientist J. Brand, in an article entitled "Tests on the Protection afforded by the beer bottle glass against the influence of light," "Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen," 1908, page 333.

Yours very truly,

RW/B

The Beer

That Made Milwaukee Famous

"Beer bottles should be manufactured from reddish-brown glass, inasmuch as same will to a much higher degree than any other kind of glass, minimize the influence of the rays of light on the quality of beer, and will protect the latter against acquiring the disagreeable taste (Sonnengeschmack) due to the chemical action of the light.

"In white and green glass bottles the beer is most affected by the action of the light. Such bottles are, therefore, absolutely inappropriate and should never be employed by brewers." (Signed) Prof. Dr. F. Schonfeld.

From the Illustrated Brewery Encyclopedia, p. 99 (Illustrated Brauerei Lexikon.) Published by Dr. Max Delbrück, Privy Councillor, Professor at the Royal Agricultural College and Director of the Institute for Fermentology at Berlin. Berlin, 1910.

"Bottles of strong glass should be selected. They should never be of colorless glass, inasmuch as through the influence of light the beer will not only take on a disagreeable odor and taste, but will also become turbid." (Lintner.)

Extract from Die Malt und Bierbereitung. Published by E. Leyer, Director of the Brewing Academy in Augsburg. Tenth Edition, Stuttgart, 1900, page 680.

"The beer in the white glass bottle had taken on disagreeable odor and taste and was absolutely undrinkable. The beer in the dark bottles did not show this peculiar odor and taste." (G. Beck.)

Translation of Extract from Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen, 1882—page 170.

"It appears that chemical changes are produced in the beer, which attains an exceedingly unpleasant taste and a disagreeable odor."

Extract from Letter on Brewing (Vol. 5) published by Hantke's Brewers' School and Laboratories. Dr. G. Thevenot.

"While beer quickly deteriorates when it is exposed to direct sunlight, such deterioration will eventually take place in diffused light."

Extract from Proceedings of the Second International Brewers' Congress held in Chicago, October 19-21, 1911.

"Beer acted upon by light soon takes up the very disagreeable so-called 'light taste,' and also a repulsive, skunk-like odor. Beer so affected is offensive to the palate of most consumers."

Extract from Beer Bottlers' Handy Book (By Philip Dreesebach, Bottling Expert and Instructor in the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology.) 1906.

Dr. W. Schulze (Allgemeine Zeitschrift für Brauerei, 1888, p. 593) finds that dark brown bottles offer the best protection against the rays of the sun.

"It is interesting to note the observation that beer in colorless bottles exposed to diffused light will undergo a change, precipitating a heavy sediment and taking on a disagreeable odor and taste."

Extract from Die Theorie und Praxis der Malzbereitung und Bierfabrikation. Published by Director Julius E. Thausing, Leipzig, 1897, Fourth Edition, page 720.

"In recent years the observation has been made that the rays of sunlight effect a chemical change in beer. For this reason the use of beer bottles blown from colorless glass is diminishing, the amber colored bottles, which, when held towards the light, show the color of light beer, are particularly to be recommended."

Extract from Die Praxis der Bierbrauerei. Published by G. E. Heisch, 1883—page 726.

"It is a known fact that sunlight and daylight influence unfavorably the taste and flavor of the beer and care must be exercised in the selection of the bottles."

WOMEN'S ROW INVOLVES WILSON.

Position of President-elect Causes a Clash.

Which of Two Candidates Did He Prefer?

Democratic League Adjourns Almost in Tears.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The question of whether President-elect Wilson had endorsed Mrs. Steven H. Ayres for president of the Woman's National Democratic League caused a spirited clash in the second day's session of the organization.

Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby, the retiring president, and Mrs. M. T. Scott, president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who nominated Mrs. Ayres, the successful opponent of Mrs. Crosby, engaged in a heated exchange.

When Mrs. Scott acceded the platform to nominate Mrs. Ayres she was asked by Mrs. Crosby to step down and speak from the floor. After declaring that she had been insulted, Mrs. Scott began her nominating speech in which she declared that the support of Mrs. Ayres had been endorsed by President-elect Wilson and Senator O'Gorman. Other nominating and endorsing speeches evidenced much feeling and order was maintained with difficulty.

MRS. CROSBY WITHDRAWALS. After Mrs. Ayres had been declared elected, Mrs. Crosby said:

"I am very glad, ladies, that you have elected a new president. I want to say that both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are friends of mine and I know they would not interfere in an election of this organization. I propose that I shall hear how his name has been brought into this affair. I have lost the election because of the question of whether I am a free trader and not a tariff, or not, and since this is the case, I do not care to preside over such a narrow-minded set of women."

LIST OF OFFICERS.

Following the election other officers were elected as follows: Mrs. William A. Cullop, Indiana; Mrs. Edward R. Taylor, Colorado, and Mrs. Susan U. Fletcher, Florida, vice-presidents; Mrs. John E. Baker, California, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph McMahon, New York, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Grace P. Bingham, Washington, D. C., field secretary; Mrs. W. E. Adams, Washington, D. C., treasurer; Mrs. C. Morton, Washington, D. C., auditor.

The old board of directors was re-elected. It is composed of Mrs. John E. Stevenson, Illinois; Mrs. Amy L. Edmunds, New Jersey; Mrs. Mary Crowell, New York City; Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, Nebraska, and Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, New York City.

VISIONS OF THE PEOPLE IN A CUL-DE-SAC.

Types Indiana Legislature to Pass Progressive Laws—Wisconsin Executive, Though a Republican, Recommends Radical Innovations in the State Assembly.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—Indiana's General Assembly convened today. The Democrats have won five of the 100 members of the house and all but eleven of the fifty members in the Senate. The Progressives have won the Governor-elect Samuel R. Harrison, will be inaugurated January 12.

GOV. MARSHALL'S MESSAGE. "The progressive legislation is upon the people, some day, will open up the cul-de-sac, even though it may lead to a precipice. Into the future, however, I look with confidence."

Representative government does not mean that present-day conditions must be remedied. Upon the contrary, progressive legislation may be enacted with no disturbance to the status and balances of our system of government."

Gov. Marshall's message contained a warning "against the subtle influence of the lobbyist," and recommended that all bills be reported out of committee within four days.

Postoffice Officials.

Who were entrusted by Postmaster-General Hitchcock with the wringing out of the technical details for the inauguration and conduct of the stupendous undertaking of a parcels post for a nation of almost a hundred million people. The system was put into effect on New Year's Day and its workings leave little room for complaint.

Master Craftsmen.

GIVE UP THEIR VACATIONS TO PERFECT PARCELS POST.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Postmaster-General Hitchcock lost no time in making preparations for inauguration of the parcels post. He began as soon as Congress adjourned after passing the law, directing the establishment of such a system. He called a number of his most experienced lieutenants to his aid to study the mighty problem and devise methods and machinery for the expeditious conduct of the new work to be undertaken by the Postoffice Department.

These aides were Chief Inspector R. S. Sharp, John C. Koons, superintendent of the division of salaries and allowances; A. A. Fisher, chief clerk of the office of second assistant Postmaster-General; Clarence B. Murray, chief clerk of the office of third assistant Postmaster-General; and George L. Wood, superintendent of the division of rural mails.

GOULD WEDDING NEXT WEEK.

Marriage to Take Place at Irvington-on-the-Hudson Because of Publicity in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The marriage of Miss Helen Gould to Finley Shepard of St. Louis is expected to be celebrated next week. It is stated that Miss Gould has fixed the date of the wedding and that invitations will be issued within a few days, but as these are to be confined to near relatives and friends, and a home wedding is decided upon in preference to a church affair, the arrangements will be kept as private as possible.

THAW LAWYER LOSES SUIT.

STRIKERS IN RIOT. Garment Workers Pickets in New York Attack Man at Factory Who Is Rescued by Police.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The appearance of a solitary workman late today in front of a downtown clothing factory was the signal for one of the most desperate riots the police have had to contend with since the garment workers began their strike. Strikers attacked the man, a policeman went to his aid, and in a few minutes more than a thousand men and women were fighting to tear the man from his protector.

Don't Drug Yourself

This Simple Home Remedy Will Cure You.

Never take drugs for a cough or cold. The relief they afford is more than offset by their disastrous after-effects. But coughing should be stopped in its first stages before the throat and bronchials become inflamed or permanently diseased.

You can make a soothing remedy that will instantly allay irritation and speedily stop your cough. Shake together in a bottle two ounces of glycerine, eight ounces of pure whiskey and half an ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine. A teaspoonful every four hours is the usual dose, and it can be taken with perfect safety by children as well as by adults.

To protect yourself against substitutes, and insure getting pure and fresh Virgin Oil of Pine, ask your druggist for an original half-ounce sealed vial. These come only in wooden cartons bearing our label. The Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati.

Priest's Advice Led To Her Recovery

To say that a specific exists for the cure of Consumption is, perhaps, too strong a statement, but in Eckman's Alternative we have a medicine that has been the means of saving many a life to years of usefulness, and in permanently benefiting a large number of Consumptives.

Certainly a person afflicted with a wasting disease should be well fed with wholesome, nourishing food, but frequently raw eggs in quantities cause a digestive breakdown, and the patient starves. As for milk, a very good food for many, but a producer of biliousness for some.

Any diet that keeps a Consumptive well nourished is the right one, but Eckman's Alternative has brought about full recovery in many cases of Consumption. Let those speak who know. Here is one:

Rochester, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physician gave me up as hopeless. I was then urged by a priest to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight at the time was 75 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 pounds, and am absolutely well. Believing I owe it to myself and others, I make this statement."

(Signed) EDNA FINZER.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co. and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.—[Advertisement.]

CLAIM JUMPING.

Double has been reported from the annual midnight claim jumping common to the State. There was some hotly over a large amount of ground in Copper Basin, where there is expectation that the Commercial Mining Co. will produce in the south. For a distance of about seven miles, all the ground available and it is said that the mine at midnight upon the hills gave the impression of a large mining city.

of the same nature was New Year's Eve in the Verde where fifty armed men and property which had been held under oil companies, with intention to prevent relocation, of assessment work which had been done. Possibly because of the preparations, not a miner is reported to have appeared on the ground to continue in the of the prior claimants.

HERD WOMEN RACE.

Between Escondido has been reported several months in this city. There has been more than local interest in her age. It seems to be substantially correct at 115, verified by Mexican records. She was consulted by Arizona, the he is now for New York. From there he will sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm II on the 21st inst. for an extended world tour. It will be virtually the first vacation he has ever had.

He expects to go direct to Paris and from there to Germany. Later he will visit England and travel from the British Isles up into Norway and Sweden. After a short stay in Switzerland he will go to Naples and thence to Egypt and the Holy Land.

In all, the jurist expects to be gone between six months and a year, although his plans are not fully matured. The trip will be his first European experience. Mrs. Bordwell and her daughter Helen, who returned last summer from a trip around the world, may join him later.

Handful of Gems.

Young Parisian at Hotel Hayward Discovers Valuable Jewelry in Dressing-Room—Quick Return.

Heart failure nearly seized Miss Michelle Le Grande, a young Parisian, at the Hotel Hayward yesterday when she found a handful of diamond rings in the women's dressing-room.

There was no one in the apartment and the glittering gems sparkled and played in their many light facets from the glass rack above the washstand. She gathered them up and carried them to Clerk George.

Before she had left the desk an agitated young man rushed in and asked that a maid be sent to the ladies' dressing-room to find some rings left by his wife.

He described the rings, a large diamond ring, containing nearly 100 stones, set in platinum, a solitaire weighing a trifle over two carats, and three smaller solitaire rings, worth altogether $1500.

"We were going to the Orpheum and had luncheon here," he said, "and I am afraid my wife was just a trifle careless and forgetful. She offered Miss Le Grande a handsome reward, but she would not accept it."

HERE WITH HIS HAMMER.

Amsterdam Traveler Says American Railway Coaches Are Filthy—Like Western Hospitality.

"American railroad travel is positively filthy," declared J. M. Gantvoort, managing director of the Des Indes properties at Batavia, Java, who is here on his way to Amsterdam, his home. "There is scarcely a country I have not visited, and I have never, in supposedly first-class railroad travel, found as much dirt as on the trains in America."

"Coming from Santa Barbara, we found peanut shells in our chair car and in the smoker the conditions were worse. These things you would never find in Europe and that is one of the reasons that Americans enjoy traveling abroad."

"Until American people have learned to take care of travelers, the European tourist business in this country will never be extensive. Here the best one finds is a party of agency tourists, generally the cheapest kind of travelers."

"One thing we have noticed in Western America is the general hostility and courtesy of the people. In this respect they are far in advance of Europeans. Wherever we have been, we have always received every possible attention and many citizens have gone out of their way to assist us in our travels."

Local Firm With $70,000 Worth of Men's Clothing and Furnishings and No Permanent Location Available.

Daniels Clothing Co. Demand Store Turned Back To Them at Close of Business, January 18th.

Pretty Tough, But There's No Time for Parleying—They'll Be Kicked Out In Eight Days.

When the Monroe-Davis-Herington Company was forced to vacate their store they had $70,000 worth of new clothing on the way. They tried to head it off but were unsuccessful. The makers, desperate situation, gave them a heavy discount so as to enable them to sell out the shipment in a hurry at least manufacture's cost.

Their staunch friend, Daniels, helped them out by offering his store at 668 South Spring street, temporarily (for a consideration) but they must positively turn his store back to him at the close of business January 18th.

Be on the job. Get your share of the money-making bargains that are crying aloud to be taken away.

SACRIFICE does not sufficiently describe the lowness of prices put on every item of clothing and furnishings (including this new shipment) of the $70,000 worth of their high grade stock at the store at 668 South Spring—north-east corner Seventh and Spring streets.

Read the following prices for only a fair sample of some of the bargains offered:

"Thais." That there is interest in new productions is evidenced by the fact that Treasurer H. R. Poole has received a phenomenal demand for seats from out of town and the city. This afternoon the Symphony Orchestra will give an exceptional programme including Schumann's Symphony in D minor, No. 4. Signor Juan de la Cruz, basso, will be heard for the first time in Wagner's "Wotan Farewell" and Mozart's "Pretty Lady."

NEW DAY DAWNS FOR OLD MINE.
ANCIENT TREASURE TO BE AGAIN UNEARTHED.
Capitalists, Who Have Taken Over Old Producer, Plan to Apply Modern Mining Methods to Overcome Difficulties Which Baffled Operators in the Past.

Modern methods, machinery and ideas are reclaiming a great treasure storehouse of Arizona, one of the rich old mines which was abandoned years ago, when water seeped through so rapidly that it destroyed many of the workings.

"With methods in vogue at that time no effort was made to take out the copper and zinc which are part of the silver and lead ore. One vein of the mine runs 60 per cent. pure metal. The copper is also important. Even the old dump can be worked over and a considerable revenue earned."

"We have already installed a very large engine and other mining machinery to help bring to the front again a property that has lain so long dormant."

It was for years connected with the Senator Clark interests in Montana. His home is in Butte. His family will arrive at the Lankershim in a few days for a short visit during the winter season.

DAMAGE WAS OVERESTIMATED.
Colton Growers, While Not in a State of Hilarious Hopefulness, Say It Might Be Worse.
COLTON, Jan. 9.—Following the first twenty-four hours of disappointment Colton is feeling encouraged, due to the reports of experts who say that the result of the freeze may not be as bad as estimated. The cold wave went in streaks and while there was not an orchard around here that it skipped it is possible that some sections suffered less injury than others. The loss will exceed that of last year without a doubt, and that was way up in the thousands. One grower stated he was preparing to cut all his trees down the next morning, another was picking the oranges to give all possible strength to the trees, while in contrast was the report of another that he had hopes of saving 35 per cent. of his crop. On the Colton Terrace, which is one of the favored spots for citrus culture, the thermometer registered 15 deg. Tuesday night in the grove of James Barnhill, president of the Fruit-Exchange, who had out about 1500 smudge pots seemingly of no use to scare away the cold.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS.
Early this morning the religious census takers began the house-to-house canvass of the city for the securing of data incident to the religious census which is general throughout the country today, the purpose of which is to put the church authorities in possession of valuable information, to be used when a united front of church organizations is necessary.

ing from a stomach complaint. The mother is broken down with worry over her difficulties with her husband. "I am afraid all of this is going to kill them both," said Mrs. Kahrs yesterday, with tears in her eyes. "We had a death in the family and my daughter and myself had to go East. Rather than have Gracie placed in the hands of a third party, she was given into the custody of her father. Now that her mother has come back and wants to keep her again she seems to think that the child is not really sick. She is. We have a physician and a trained nurse. The poor child cries and cries when she thinks that she will be taken away from her mother."

Barren as to Results.
Oil Prospectors Say They Were Unable to Find Amber Fluid in Disputed Territory.
The examination of two witnesses, both of whom testified that in their opinion the Elk Hills lands, in disputed ownership between the United States government and the Southern Pacific, did not contain oil deposits of consequence brought the short afternoon session to a close yesterday in the hearing before Special Commissioner Longley. The case will be continued this morning and will be taken to San Francisco next Monday.

A QUARREL.
 A We have an ax out for a certain Kentucky gentleman, although for the present we will mention no names. Recently he spent three months in Los Angeles. On returning to his home at Lexington he was besieged by friends for his opinion of this country. His descriptions were glowing in every particular. Then someone asked him about the quality of water out here. "I'll declare," he said, "if I didn't plum forget to taste it."

CONFESSIONS OF A BACHELOR.
 A man in this city who has been reading the Human Body department of the Sunday Times magazine seems to be a responsive person. Lately those columns contained something in praise of linen underwear. Yesterday the man in question remarked to a friend that he had just dug up two suits of linen underclothing which he had kept in the bottom of his trunk for four years. Copy which sets a man digging is good stuff.

SAVING A FRIEND.
 Several months ago a business man's club in this city found that one of its members had been stricken with nervous prostration which had affected his mind. Instead of permitting him to go to an asylum they placed him in a private sanatorium at their own expense and took charge of his business, which was in a precarious condition. They now find that his affairs have not only righted themselves, but that he has recovered both health and reason and is again happily on the way to mended fortune. This is brotherly love. It is not charity, but good business, for it restores to the community an able man.

WHALE FISHERMEN.
 While oil is no longer needed as an illuminant, but whales have not therefore fallen into "innocuous desuetude." They will be used hereafter as herring shepherds. Up at Prince Rupert's Island, two whales are actively engaged in cornering the herring market. These leviathans of the deep first drive shoals of herring close to shore; then they open their mouths and go through the shoal of herring at a rate of speed that would make a racing auto look like a lame snail. There are not so many herring after the whales have had their breakfast. Guile looking for leftovers follow the whales. The fishermen follow the guile and big hauls result.

A LOVELY FANCY.
 There is a fish in the waters at Catalina which changes its colors to suit the rocks or the kelp which it uses as a screen when hiding. They call it the ribbon fish. Science has demonstrated that the little creature cannot change its delicate shading if its optic nerve be paralyzed. In other words, it becomes like the object it visualizes. Wordsworth conceived a woman to be like this, for in his beloved Lucy, whom he often mourns in exquisite lines, he sees a woman who partakes of all the beauty that she looks on. Somewhere he says, "And beauty born of murmuring sound shall pass into her face."

FORGOTTEN GLORY.
 It has been a long time since Dante Gabriel Rossetti wrote "The Blessed Damozel," but death is always stealing away some beautiful woman whose passing must sadden earth as it sweetens heaven, and this is to remind any who are in such a sorrow of the precious consolation of this rare poem of the long ago. After he has described her as "jealous out from the gold bat of heaven with blue grave eyes deeper much than a deep water, even," he puts these assuring words in her mouth: "I wish that come to me, 'For he will come,' she said, 'Have I not prayed in solemn heaven? On earth has he not prayed? Are not two prayers a perfect strength, And shall I fear afraid?'"

SIXTEEN CENT TAX.
 The latest discussion in the English papers in connection with the coining of eighteen pence—i.e., one coin of value 16 cents—to facilitate the payment for taxicabs is enough to make the American tax green with envy. The London tax will carry you a mile for 16 cents within the three-mile radius and the second mile for 12 cents. One can be a howling plutocrat and enjoy exclusive locomotion to almost any part of London for a quarter—and yet the Londoner is not satisfied.

His latest complaint is that it is so tiresome to have to pay the fare with a sixpence and two pennies, or to proffer a shilling and endure the taxi driver's cold stare while waiting for one's fourpence change. It would be so much more convenient if the mint issued eighteen pence now, or at least revived the old fourpenny piece, two of which would meet requirements more satisfactorily. It is also suggested that the tiresome little coin known colloquially as a "three-penny bit" be discontinued in favor of the slightly larger coin—an idea that is receiving the wholehearted and enthusiastic support of the clergy, since the "three-penny bit" is used almost exclusively for the Sabbath donor. The innate nobility of the British makes it necessary for him to give silver—there is something so pitifully pedestrian about the large English penny—but as natural frugality selects the smallest coin possible. Therefore the revival of the fourpenny piece in lieu of the three-penny piece is the only way to increase church donations throughout the isles by 25 per cent., no mean improvement. The taxicab may live to see its self-enriched yet!

THE RAILROADS, THE BANKS AND THE FRUIT.

It is not to be supposed that the railroads will not co-operate with the orange and lemon shippers in ameliorating losses due to the frost.

The fruit associations are wide-awake, courageous, earnest and discreet. They propose to make the very best of the situation and get the very most out of the crop—and then most of the growers will do some too well. Prompt shipments and correct branding, careful packing and no misrepresentation are points on which the associations will insist. Not one California orange should be sold for other than it may be—good, bad or indifferent. It is the prevailing impression that the proportion of really excellent fruit will be found larger than was expected earlier in the week. The gradual thaw and the thrice-welcome rain will contribute to this result. It will be a stroke of policy if the railroads will help reduce red-tick figures to a minimum by modifying terms on inferior fruit. They can afford to make concessions; it will be to their advantage to do so. Unusually expeditious service, the straining of every nerve to handle shipments in the best way, and generous terms—these are ways in which the railroads will benefit themselves while aiding the citrus industry and promoting the development of Southern California.

The orange and lemon orchardists are showing a splendid spirit, and the opportunity to stimulate it and make it an asset for future years must appeal to the railroad managers.

The banks, also, will doubtless be lenient and accommodating and make it easy for orchardists to "tide over."

AN ALLEGED CRIMINAL'S DILEMMA.
 It is doubtful whether that section of the criminal code which allows a person accused of crime to testify at his trial in his own behalf is not on the whole a disadvantage to him.

If he omits to take the stand the jury, in spite of the instructions of the judge that such failure shall not be considered to his prejudice, will consider it to his prejudice and will believe that he must be guilty when he does not dispute or explain the incriminating evidence against him.

If he testifies, his evidence will be received with a doubt as to its truthfulness, for it will be believed that his desire to be exculpated will greatly color his statements.

In some cases the defendant will be impaled on the horns of a dilemma. If he does not testify, that will be considered as practically a confession of guilt. If he testifies and tells the truth it will be a confession of guilt. If he testifies and tells a lie he will risk a subsequent trial for perjury, and a conviction of perjury may entail a severe punishment than that for which he is on trial.

THE REAL MOTIVE.

A Liverpool paper suggests that, if American coastwise ships are to be exempted from canal tolls, the result would practically be to exempt from tolls as well American ships engaged in the foreign trade. A vessel might be loaded at a California or Puget Sound port with wheat, or wines, or dried fruits, consigned to Colon, which is an American port. She would therefore pass through the canal free. Her cargo could at Colon be transferred to an American, or British, or German ship, bound for Liverpool, at a cost of about 10 cents per ton for the transfer. At Colon the American ship could load for San Pedro, or San Francisco, or Seattle with the cargo of the ship which had been unloaded to receive the California freight. Again there would be no toll for passing through the canal.

Or the American ship at Colon might, after passing through the canal free, unload at the American port of Panama into a ship bound for an Asiatic or Australian port. Thus would Yankee ingenuity, by half-devised trickery, reward the generosity of England in graciously permitting the United States to build the Panama Canal. This would America be enabled to partially recover the maritime commerce which fifty-two years ago England drove from the seas with the Alabama and the Shenandoah.

The one island speck of logic in the ocean of illogical assumption presented to our government by Sir Edward Grey is that the exemption of American coastwise ships from tolls would lessen the revenues of the canal and to an extent increase the rate of charges made upon English ships. England owes one-half and the United States one-twenty-eighth part of the ocean steamers of the world. If the number of American ships and English ships passing through the canal were apportioned in the same ratio the infliction of tolls on the American ships would reduce the toll on English ships less than 5 cents per ton. It is not believable that His Majesty's government is so given to cheese-paring economy as to go into diplomatic hysteria over a saving of 5 cents per ton on British vessels passing through the canal. A larger motive must be ascribed to Sir Edward Grey. That larger motive may be found in his strong desire to prevent the removal of the fetters which England shackled American commerce fifty-two years ago.

MONEY-GETTING SILENCE.

Every business man knows what it is to be still and let some idea worth while float to him. When it arrives it works like an alarm clock. Its coming sets his mental machinery into motion. He snatches large plans out of the atmosphere in moments when he is entirely passive, but he is all activity in organizing the new idea into a business campaign. Rather incredulous as well as vastly amusing is it to find a set of people who undertake to commercialize the idea of sitting still and reaching a stage of quiet reflection. Indeed, this is almost as amusing as the idea of paying some man two dollars because he thinks he knows the truth and is willing to think some pleasant truth about you for twenty minutes for a cash consideration. These persons make a great mystery of what they call "going into the silence," but they never tell the innocent members of their classes that this is nothing more than doing nothing and thinking nothing while they are doing it, or of thinking nothing and doing nothing while they are thinking it. They do not tell it because this would not sound like two dollars' worth, neither would it require ten lessons on the art of concentration and the mystery of the silence. The Bible says, "Their strength shall be in their sitting still," but this hardly justifies the so-called metaphysical teachers in separating the guile from their dollars. Once when Kant was dictating from a window in which he regularly sat when at work he was unable to utter a sentence nor could he form one in his mind. He sent for a brain specialist, who could give him no assistance. After returning to the window for several days and being unable to work another specialist was sent for. Kant was sitting at the window when the eminent physician arrived. Noting that Kant's gaze was fixed at a point some twenty yards away, the specialist asked the philosopher at what he usually looked when writing. Kant replied that he always fixed his vision at a treetop and then he discovered that the wind had topped the tree. The specialist had the tree crown raised again and the German savant had no trouble in thinking with his accustomed vigor and clarity after the restoration of the branches. He had simply depended on a point of focalization and was accustomed to have his ideas cluster about it. He literally saw what he wrote rather than thought it. Vision is always the great asset of mental power and, of course, if people refuse to learn this for themselves it is quite all right for somebody to take money from them for imbuing them with a little common sense.

UNCLE WALT.
 Oh, Christmas Day is past and gone, we saw New Year's depart; and Christmas Day full soon will dawn, the day that stirs the heart. So let us wear our Christmas grins and do our shopping now, before the groundhog rush begins—the sanest plan, I swear. Oh, Groundhog Day, I sing your praise throughout the busy town, and if the groundhog hears my lays, I hope he'll join the throng. On Groundhog Day we suspend our dietary rules, and gobble rich things without end like forty kinds of fools. No indignation racks our frames when Groundhog Day is past, we do not dope or fast. No slippers come by every mail from climes where slippers grow, no cheerful chumps come up and wall, "A groundhog box on you!" No presents on a groundhog treat stir up your deadly ire, no foolish Santa do you be, with whiskers all afire. Oh, Groundhog Day is safe and sane, a festive day and kind, which doesn't jar your soul or strain your body or your mind. So let us ring the groundhog bell, until the day is o'er, and may the groundhog spirit dwell with us forever more.

SECRETARY OF HEALTH?

There is a Secretary of Agriculture, whose duties include measures for preserving the health of animals. While there are exceptions, such as exist in the editorial rooms of our steamed Progressive contemporary, yet, as a rule, the health of a man is of greater importance to the community in which he lives than that of any two-legged Andalusian jackass who brays his hostility to big business and loathsome capitalism.

A Secretary of Health might be useful. One who is not a physician and has no prejudices in favor of allopathy, hydropathy, homeopathy, osteopathy, electropathy or Christian Science, but who would administer the duties of his office with strict impartiality.

The last decades of time have illustrated the value of government administration of sanitary science. The isthmian canal zone was, until the United States undertook the construction of the Panama Canal, one of the plague spots of the world. The death rate there today is lower than in the city of New York. This result has been achieved by scientific sanitation.

The medical profession has furnished to the world its full quota of self-sacrificing heroes. Not on battlefields amid the roar of artillery and the glint of bayonets, but in the hospitals and the slums, where they fought to preserve human life and not to destroy it, were these heroes found. Drs. Lasear and Carroll voluntarily submitted to being bitten by yellow-fever mosquitoes in order to prove that this dread disease was carried by insects. They died by their theory. Dr. Gorgas with the knowledge thus gained drove yellow fever from Havana, where it had existed, beyond the power of man to check it, for 100 years. Dr. Ricketts died in Mexico while studying the cause of typhus fever, and the knowledge he gained lessened the ravages in the Rocky Mountain States. In the Spanish-American War typhoid killed more soldiers than the category of preventable diseases. Objection has sometimes been made to scientific sanitation by the Federal government on the ground that such was the duty and the prerogative of State governments, and that for the United States to take measures to preserve the health and lives of its citizens was an attack upon that ancient and battle-smitten bugaboo called "State rights."

That eminent physician and surgeon, Dr. John A. Wyeth, thus deals with the "State rights" friends of pestilence: "The question of State rights is not involved. Without interference in any way with the prerogatives of the various State boards, these can be employed in successful co-operation for the general welfare. No single State or group of States should be made to bear alone the expense of fighting an epidemic. It is not fair to the State or its neighbors who are threatened. Epidemics do not respect interstate boundary lines. Mosquitoes which carry the germs of yellow fever, flies which transport and widely distribute the germs of typhoid fever, rats which harbor the insects which spread bubonic plague over the world, are no respecters of interstate lines. "A stream, vilely polluted in one community, may flow through a dozen States, carrying its poisons to the helpless people who are compelled to use its water. It is estimated by the National Health Association for the Advancement of Science that 630,000 deaths occurred in 1910 which would not have occurred under the operation of a national department of health backed by the authority and the resources of the general government with the co-operation of the States and people in the enforcement of its regulations. In addition there were 1,500,000 cases of illness with confinement in bed for a varied period of time in each case—all of which suffering and loss of productive power might have been obviated by the operation of this central health control."

THE POST PHILOSOPHER.

So let us wear our Christmas grins and do our shopping now, before the groundhog rush begins—the sanest plan, I swear. BURDETTE ON THE WEATHER.

Something to Talk About at Last. Speaking of climate—there was something about the weather in the recent editions, wasn't there? Speaking of climate, I have experienced all the known varieties from the Honolulu monochrome to the Mississippi Valley crazy quilt, in every test run from California to Alaska. I have read the local papers in all lands that lay claim to climatic perfection, interpreting for myself those printed in the various dialects of the English forms of human speech, and guessing at the editorials and statistics in those published in strange consonants with just enough vowels scattered through to keep tally of the sentences. And the interpretations and the guesses trotted a dead heat every time, with the truth rather favoring the guesses.

Always the Wrong Season.

It has been my fate, most of the time, in my tours of investigation to fall over the town at the wrong time of the year. In cold days in Illinois I have landed in Kaskaskia during the January thaw, when the board sidewalks went out as the Kickapoo Creek came in. And while I sat in the hotel—the Phoenix—and waited for the return of the porter who had gone back along the trail to find where I cast my shoes, the population entertained me by telling me what a beautiful town it was in July. But the following July found me going down the main street of Kaw Center, Kan., between fragments of Clay Barnwell's barber shop and the Baptist Church propelled by a six-cylinder cyclone running half speed ahead under its own power, with an old resident trying to keep up with me long enough to tell me that the prettiest climate on earth was October in Kaw Center. But the next October I was laid up with pneumonia and premature frost bite in Snowshoe Portage, Minn., where I was told that people came there from Europe, Asia and Africa to spend the month of August.

There Are No Averages.

I have been an attendant upon public assemblies of my own and other men's for to these many, many vocal and restless years.

But two things I have never "saw": The "average climate" or the "usual" congregation. Always "I should see this town" anytime else in the year. And always the minister informed me that there was so much sickness in town; or so many of his members were away for the summer, spring, autumn or winter, as the season might be, that the congregation this morning was much smaller than usual. Many times the seats were all filled as far back as the second store, but this morning—And I agreed, and said that the complaint was epidemic all over the United States.

Getting the Composite Photograph.

It isn't easy to get a good composite photograph of a class. And if you could, it would be more unsatisfactory than an ivory miniature. A composite photograph doesn't really look like anybody in the class of the class. There is, perhaps, in the case of a group of men a rather strong family resemblance to the man with the biggest waders, and in a class of women you may faintly recognize the face of the girl whose picture comes out on top. But as she had fiery red hair and great crinkly tumbled thickets of it, gray-green eyes and a nose so snub that it stared at you, and all the rest of it, and in a class of women you may faintly recognize the face of the girl whose picture comes out on top. Where Cromwell Makes the Trojan Athle.

In the U.S.C. Training Quarters.

During the bad weather the track men are put through all manner of stunts to keep them in shape. Coach Cromwell is seen timing Capt. Linton Smith as he skips rope, while Hodge is doing setting up exercises. The rest of the men are either being rubbed or are existing on the tables.

FROZEN ORANGES DROVE CHANCE BACK TO WORK.

SOMEONE benefited by the late freeze, anyhow. It gave the New York Highlanders a contract with Frank Chance. The real secret of Chance's change of heart came yesterday.

Before Frank left for the East his wife made him promise not to sign with Farrell. On the train, however, he received a telegram stating that the heavy frost had destroyed the orange crop on his Glendora ranch. Mrs. Chance reports about the crop damaged.

"Hark!" immediately returned a telegram saying, "All right; I am going to work." He will start home today.

FROM A CARR WINDOW.

LUTHER MCCARTY, the by-courtesy champion of the world, is at present in pain.

In his opinion the newspapers of the country are behaving very badly. It would have been in much better taste, he maintains, for the public journals to have continued to proclaim him as a wonderful demigod who condescended to interrupt his voyage of romantic adventure long enough to mash up the face of a tow-headed farmer from Iowa.

The introduction of a deserted wife was, in his estimation, a very severe mistake in stage management, and wherefore he mourns and sulks and refuses to be comforted.

This is certainly very sad, but if Luther wants to be famous, he will have to take all that goes with fame. He will stand, like other men of fame, in the fierce rain light. He either belongs to the public utterly or not at all.

As a moving-picture cowpuncher—a bold bad man with fringes on his clothes—Luther has been mildly entertaining. There never were any real cowboys like that in the world. But he made a romantic picture. As a story-book swashbuckler he was quite a success.

But he must not insist that we take him seriously.

In the first place, there is nothing in the process of bumping the flat face of Al Palmer that transforms McCarty into a sacred white cow of person inviolate.

In the second place, the procedure of taking McCarty seriously would be attended with disastrous results to himself. If we stripped him of his romantic scenery, we would be compelled to see him as he is—an ignorant, never-did-well who is inclined to become tedious on too intimate acquaintance.

We will have to hand it to Mrs. McCarty for one thing, however: She made a stunning entrance into the picture.

In the hour of the hero's triumph here comes Cinderella of the potato peelings. It sounds like one of Dick Ferris's melodramas.

Freddie Welsh is now lightweight champion of the world. He modestly says so himself in the London papers. In a headline so big that it must have created a scandal throughout the British Islands, Freddie tells how he won the title of lightweight champion of the world by defeating Hugh McGehee.

This taken a great load off my mind. We now have plenty of lightweight champions of the world to serve every purpose. We could even lose a few lightweight champions of the world and still have a lightweight champion of the world on the job.

Willie Ritchie is now the lightweight champion of the world. The friends of Ad Wolgast assert that he doesn't even pick the world's championship; so the Cadillac Dredman is also lightweight champion of the world in addition to Freddie Welsh.

Far be it from me to lay the shadow of a doubt upon the training of one of Bull Young's mighty tendons which resulted in calling off the class B heavyweight contest; but I am of the opinion that the strained tendon was in the gentleman's ear and that he

FREDIE WELSH CLAIMS HE KNOCKED WOLGAST OUT.

IN A beautiful four-column "Story of My Life" written for the London News of the World, Freddie Welsh claims to have knocked Ad Wolgast out bid for three minutes while he was training for a fight in Milwaukee with Paddy McFarland in 1908. Freddie asserts that ever thereafter, dropping the memory of that knock-out, Wolgast avoided a fight with him.

Freddie says that, up to this time, he has kept this incident a secret "locked with my memory."

Freddie's account follows: "While going through my exercises a cocky son-of-a-bitch named Wolgast, who seemed full of vast importance, entered the place and after a minute or so, came over and said, very amiably, 'Hello, Welsh; how are you?'"

"Fine," responded, not knowing his name.

"He followed up by saying that he would give me a couple of rounds, and I told him I didn't care to box that day, giving my reasons."

"He, however, said he would make a light, friendly spar of it, going easy so that I couldn't be doing more than I wished to, and to oblige him I put on the gloves. We were to have three rounds, exhibition-like, and that wouldn't arrange my plans."

"Well, in a minute we boxed neatly with operators, being very light with each other, and I having no reasons for suspicion, was taking matters in a half-hearted manner. Off my guard he suddenly swung a haymaker at me with his right hand. I had just time to step back a bit, but it grazed my jaw, and the force of it revealed the gentleman's very original idea to knock me out."

"There were a half-dozen others standing about at the time, and they opened their eyes."

"I never said anything, but went

NEW RAIN STORM MAY HELP DUCK SHOOTING.

THE present rainstorm should make good duck shooting on the ponds of the local clubs down the beach, but the success of the past week was not very gratifying to the hunters. This was due principally to the cold weather, which froze over many of the ponds on the various clubs, the ducks away from their usual haunts.

In addition to this, the nights and mornings were so chilly that none but the real enthusiasts could or would brave the inclemency, and thus the birds got a much-needed rest.

These conditions interfered very much with the shoot of the Wednesday squads on the clubs, but few were down. These reported fair luck, with some real shooting in prospect now that the rain has thawed the ice.

The Casadores had good sport and there were six men down for the Wednesday shoot in West, Hardin, Wilson, Biehl, Page and a friend of

WILLARD TO COME WEST TO BATTLE.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Jess Willard, the biggest fighter in the ring, will leave with his manager, Charlie Cutler, for San Francisco early next week, unless word comes from Billy Gibson, the New York promoter, that the proposed fight with Luther McCarty, for January 29, will be closed.

Willard and his manager have pledged themselves to fight for Jim McForth in the first of a series of battles to be staged in February. He has been offered his pick of Gusboat Smith, Frank Moran and Jack Kaufman, with a definite promise of a battle with McCarty before April 4. He may leave with his manager for the Coast next Tuesday.

Fight fans are pulling over the action of Jack Johnson in going back into training. He is working at daily

MATCH FOR DUNDEE SATURDAY NIGHT.

NEW YORK Jan. 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Johnny Dundee, the fast local Italian featherweight and Willie Jones of Brooklyn, were matched today to meet in the main bout of the three ten-round contests which will take place at the Royal Athletic Club on Saturday night.

Harry Thoman, the English lightweight, and Pat Moore of Philadelphia, have been matched to meet in a ten-round bout at a show at the New York Athletic Club on Saturday evening, January 25.

COMANCHE FRANK WINS. MONTGOMERY (Ala.) Jan. 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Comanche Frank, owned by U. R. Fishel of Hope, Ind., and handled by J. M. Arent of Hickory Valley, Tenn., took the first prize in the all-age stake in the United States Field Trials Club at Letohatchie yesterday.

"KNOCKOUT" TO MEET RIVERS.

February Holiday Date Is Given Lightweights.

Wolcast Turned Down Offering to His Demands.

Fights for Next Tuesday Are Called Off.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

"Knockout Brown" of New York will be Joe Rivers's opponent at Vernon on February 22, according to an announcement made last night by Proprietor McCarty. The men will travel the twenty-round route.

McCarty yesterday received a wire from Dan Morgan, Brown's manager, accepting the terms of the Pacific Athletic Club. As Levy, acting for Rivers, had previously expressed himself as agreeable to the match, that the men will meet is regarded as a certainty.

Rivers was promised several weeks ago that the February 22 date would be reserved for him. For a time it was thought that Wolgast would be his opponent, but it is said that the former champion was a bit too steep in his demands. Willie Ritchie would have been preferred above all others, but was passed up, as there seemed to be no possibility of his returning to the ring that early. The champion's theatrical contracts carry him well beyond that date.

All doubt as to the Kilbane-Dundee fight being staged in April were removed yesterday when McCarty received a wire from Jimmy Dunn saying that Kilbane would defend his title here against the New Yorker. Dunn's wire was prompted by several stories printed in the East to the effect that Kilbane would not keep his appointment here with Dundee.

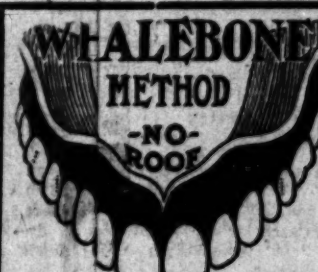

The class B heavyweight card planned for January 14 has been called off. The reason given is that Bull Young wrenched the ligaments in his left arm while boxing with Walter Monahan yesterday afternoon. As Bull was the headliner, it was thought better to cancel the entire card instead of substituting someone for Young.

Trainer Paul Mullen had Young examined by a physician, and it was announced that the big fellow's arm would not be in shape to permit of any boxing inside of six weeks.

The cancelling of the card will not be a great disappointment, as but little interest had been aroused in any of the bouts the show being regarded largely as an aftermath of the McCarty-Palmer battle.

This, however, does not mean that the plan to conduct a series of heavyweight battles for the purpose of securing an opponent for Luther McCarty will be given up permanently.

"It was too late to secure a substitute for Young, and there was nothing for us to do but call it off," said McCarty. "It is merely an interruption in the programme which I had mapped out to give every deserving heavyweight in the country a chance to prove his worth."

A.U. MEET PROMISES STIRRING COMPETITION.

Colleges to Enter Full Varsities, as Southern Championship Hangs in the Balance—Old Time Rivalry to Be Revived—Two New Expected in Field.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

In feverish haste to locate a training grounds, so that the Blue and White may be properly represented in the big meet.

TWO NEW TEAMS.

There are two more important factors entered in the coming competition. The first is the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the team being captained by Jim Donahue, who says that he has rounded up a galaxy of former high school and college stars, so the club's track team will be just as capable of making a showing as was the football team this fall.

The other factor is the Catholic Athletic League. This organization is one of the strongest athletic bodies in San Francisco, and recently the Los Angeles Catholic men's clubs have been brought under one head by Pat Higgins and are now ready for an active campaign through the coming track and baseball seasons. The league has unlimited material and it is only a question of whipping it into shape for the meet. It would be asking a little too much to expect the league team to win right at the start, but give it a little more time and the fans will find a dangerous competitor in the field.

Competition will be unusual this season, offering to the individual athletes and colleges and high schools these events there has been a foundation for future events may be started at once.

THE A.A.U. events will form the backbone of the season, and the points in the individual championship will count only in the final event.

LARGE ENTRY EXPECTED.

With all the colleges, high schools, clubs and many unattached athletes entered in the coming meet the entry list promises to be larger than that of last year, which totaled over 175.

This will probably make heats in many of the shorter races necessary and when a man has finally won the gold medal for a certain event, we can rest assured that he deserved the honor.

Since the breaking up of the Southern California Intercollegiate conference, three years ago, there has been no big four-cornered track meet in the South, and as these contests always furnished the greatest track thrills of the season, the absence of such meets has been sadly missed by the roots. This year, while there does not seem much of a chance for a conference meet, the coming A.A.U. competition bids fair to revive all the old-time rivalry among the colleges.

VARSITY COMPETITION.

The Trojans are working hard and expect to enter a full varsity quota of men, while Oxy and Pomona also intend to be represented by a varsity of full strength. Besides the three big college teams, there will be the Los Angeles and the Catholic League teams, so the points will very likely be split up considerably before the final event.

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 9.—The proposed bill providing for a water commission in this State, prepared by the State Conservation Commission, had consideration at a meeting of the Tri-County Reformation Committee here today. PHONE MERGER POSSIBLE.
Among the matters discussed by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce today was the possible merger of the Pacific and Home systems in this city. The franchise of the former company expires in March, and it was reported that efforts are being made in San Francisco and Los Angeles to bring about a merger. It is believed this will be possible, owing to the situation confronting the Pacific Company, which has a large investment in equipment in the Riverside district.

CELEBRATING THE COMPLETION OF THE four-mile water tunnel built through the Santa Ynez Mountains to the Santa Ynez River, a banquet will be held at the Pottier Hotel Saturday night and it is expected that several hundred people will be present. There will be a number of speakers, including J. B. Lippincott of Los Angeles, consulting engineer of the giant project; Leo M. Hyde, supervising engineer; Frank E. Kellogg, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; J. N. Hillier, president of the Santa Barbara Water Works; Attorney Honley C. Booth, of San Francisco. The tunnel cost the city in the neighborhood of $600,000, and when the reservoir on the north side of the mountain is completed the project will be a million-dollar proposition, one of the biggest undertakings on record for a city of this size.

THE QUARTER ENDING DECEMBER 31 was the greatest in the history of the Santa Barbara postoffice, the receipts totaling $15,893.14, as against $14,692.49 for the same period of 1911. The year 1912 also was a record-breaker, the receipts being $15,149.14, while for the year 1911 the receipts were $12,523.35. The government's net profit for the last quarter of 1912 was $6775.79.

It was the first case of the kind ever tried in this county. Angulo will be sentenced Saturday. The crime is punishable by a fine of $1000, or by imprisonment in the County Jail or sentence to the penitentiary.

HAVE OTHER RESOURCES.
San Diego County Fruit Men Not Encouraged by Destructive Visit of Jack Frost.
ESCONDIDO, Jan. 9.—Although smarting keenly under the loss to the citrus growers by the recent frosts, Escondido is inclined to take the matter philosophically. Except in a few miscellaneous products, the orchardists are not financially crippled by the frosts. In all cases they are going ahead with the care of their orchards in order to bring them into bearing again in the least possible time. In discussing the setback to the citrus interests, J. H. Heath, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, calls attention to the fact that Escondido and tributary counties have a number of industrial strings to its bow, besides oranges and lemons and grape fruit.

PROPRIETORS OF SEATTLE BOX FACTORY fined for Injurious Violation of Eight-Hour Law.
SEATTLE, Jan. 9.—In imposing a fine today on a paper box factory for violation of the State eight-hour law for women, Superior Judge McIntosh commented on the ingenuity by which the violation was accomplished. The girls worked eight hours for the company. At the end of that time the factory, under a lease, was turned over to its foreman, and the girls worked eight hours more for him until late at night. The foreman testified that he sold his product to the company at a small profit.

SENIOR CLASS IS NOT AFRAID.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 9.—Members of the senior class of the San Bernardino High School are not afraid of the "13" jinx. Like President-elect Wilson they insist that it is their lucky number, and in proof of the same offer the following:

The class will graduate on Friday, June 13, 1913, and will consist of sixty-five members, or just five times thirteen. Not only will the graduation day fall on Friday the thirteenth, but it is the only Friday this year to fall on the thirteenth day of the month. Furthermore, the class is using thirteen recitation-rooms in its work, and the class has a corps of twenty-six instructors, or twice thirteen.

And again—thirteen members of the class have been in school just thirteen years.

GOOD ROADS BONDS ARE SOLD.

Orange County Finds Three Los Angeles Concerns Willing to Buy Paper and Pay Substantial Bonus.
SANTA ANA, Jan. 9.—Orange county's $175,000 good roads bonds were sold today by the Board of Supervisors to a combination of buyers, E. H. Rollins and Son, N. W. Halsey & Co., and Torrance, Marshall & Co., all of Los Angeles. For the bonds, the buyers offered a premium of $25,000. One other bid was received. It was $24,816 from a combination composed of the Anglo and London-Paris National Bank of San Francisco, Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago and William S. States Company of San Francisco. Attorneys for the purchasers will pass on the bonds immediately, and will probably have the money here for them on March 1, 1913, which date the bonds will carry. They will bear 5 per cent interest. With the sale of the bonds there is every reason to believe that this county's system of good roads, planned to improve 107 miles of road, will be under way within four months.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Board of Supervisors today made its appointments for the new term. The only change made was in stock inspector. Dr. W. W. Closson of Anaheim, succeeding Dr. W. S. McFarlane of Anaheim. Re-appointments were made unanimously as follows: Physician, Dr. John Wehrly; bee inspector, J. E. Pleasant; park custodian, A. B. Tiffany; hospital steward, J. R. McMurdo; court house gardener, J. H. Sturgeon; courthouse janitor, G. M. Benedict; fire warden, E. W. Adkinson. E. A. Chaffee was appointed superintendent of the county poor farm at a salary of $80 per month. W. K. Robinson was made game warden at $50 a month, he to serve if the State Fish and Game Commission pays a similar amount so that Robinson can devote his time to the work. A petition signed by 583 church people asking that in the place of the county hospital there be included a plan for a chapel was granted, it being the intention of the church people to use the chapel for religious services and the poor farm inmates.

The Santa Ana Board of Education is in a dilemma. Last night bids for building the new high school building were opened, and the lowest bid shows that the buildings if erected as planned will cost $47,000 more than is available. The board has a bond issue of $200,000. For the site $20,000 was spent, and $20,000 must be kept out for equipment. C. C. Conant, Los Angeles, who had the lowest bid, offered to build the group for $164,000, exclusive of plumbing, electric wiring, painting, etc. It is believed that the bids were taken under advisement until Friday night, the architects being instructed to go to the city and produce harvests hitherto not thought of.

The first three miles of asphalt pavement through the center of Carpentaria are completed and work is being pushed on the rest. In all nine and one-tenth miles are to be built this winter. Carpentaria will then be paved with a victory for the chamber. The latter were attempting to secure control of the public ocean-front strip. After months of contention it is reported that the corporation has failed to secure attorneys to carry the case farther and that the public is in full possession. It is now announced that the strip can be used by all for camping purposes or any purpose which promotes public welfare or pleasure, under the supervision of the Supervisors, who now have full control through the action making the land public highway and subject to improvement whenever the public good demands that.

ORANGE.

ORANGE, Jan. 9.—For going into saloons at Anaheim and for the theft of money here, Dick Hillyard must serve a three-year term in San Quentin. Hillyard was out on probation on a charge of forgery. For several weeks his behavior has been such that local officers could see no way to deal with him except to send him to the penitentiary.

CHAMBER WINE.

The controversy between the Chamber of Commerce and the Henry Fish Seed Company seems to have terminated with a victory for the chamber. The latter were attempting to secure control of the public ocean-front strip. After months of contention it is reported that the corporation has failed to secure attorneys to carry the case farther and that the public is in full possession. It is now announced that the strip can be used by all for camping purposes or any purpose which promotes public welfare or pleasure, under the supervision of the Supervisors, who now have full control through the action making the land public highway and subject to improvement whenever the public good demands that.

HAD TO TIE HANDS ECZEMA SO BAD

Eczema on Face and Head. Raw, Red Patches with Blisters. Later Dry, Scaly and Cracked. Burning and Itching Intense. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

1080 Bellevue Ave., La Junta, Colo.—"My little daughter had eczema on her face and head. The trouble began with itching, raw, red patches with blisters which would break and a fluid would discharge. This in drying formed scabs. Later on the patches became dry, scaly and cracked and the burning and itching were intense. We had to tie her hands to keep her from scratching, as the eruptions made areas which we thought would ruin her for life. Her hair fell out and her head was scabby all over. The eczema neither day or night. We tried medicine but still no relief and finally we decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We began using them by washing the head and face in warm water and Cuticura Soap, after which we anointed them with Cuticura Ointment. This brought relief and sleep for her. In two months you wouldn't have known the child; she was cured and has never been bothered since with this disease." (Signed) Mrs. J. Gerson, Sept. 25, 1912.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
The contract for La Brea storm drain was let yesterday. It will cost considerably over a half-million dollars.

The Board of Public Works requested the City Attorney yesterday to prepare an ordinance requiring city contractors to pay their laborers in cash.

The officials of the Pacific Electric Railway gave notice yesterday that they will today submit a bid for the construction of the railway on San Pedro street.

Convicted of having contributed to a girl's delinquency, probation was granted George B. Ryan by a Superior Court judge yesterday for the sake of Ryan's mother.

At the City Hall.

A TROUBLESOME STORM DRAIN.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR GREAT LA BREA SYSTEM.

Board of Public Works Decides to Compel Contractors to Pay Laborers Cash—Bid on San Pedro Street Railway Today—Referendum on Dance Hall Question.

The contract for the great La Brea storm drain system was awarded yesterday by the Board of Public Works to Holt & Jeffery on their bid of $588,844.44. The city has probably undertaken few improvements of this character which have occasioned so much trouble. There have been petitions and protests by the yard, hearings by the hour and arguments galore in connection with it. Its function will be to drain the region southwest of Pico Heights, where large quantities of storm water gather, and the problem has been a hard one to solve.

The bid of Holt & Jeffery was 3 per cent. above the estimated cost of the work, but as it was the only bid submitted, the slight advance was not taken into consideration.

Another sewer contract was let for the construction of a sewer on Santa Rosa street, from Pacific street to Grand avenue, at a bid of $23,814. The successful bidder being John Balch.

On Sunset boulevard, from Normandie avenue to Vermont avenue, a sewer will be built by George Erikson, who was awarded the contract for $23,814. While this contract is not a large one, it is of great importance as part of the improvement of the boulevard, which has been on the string for several years.

According to a resolution passed by the Board of Public Works yesterday, contractors on city work will soon be required to pay their laborers in cash. The City Attorney was asked to draft an ordinance declaring it illegal for them to pay in time checks, which have put the men at the mercy of shysters and tradesmen.

WILL BE TODAY.
RAILWAY CONFERENCE HELD.

A lengthy and confidential conference was held yesterday afternoon between the Municipal Railroad Committee of the City Council, the Board of Public Works, and Messrs. Shoup, Pillsbury and Hill of the Pacific Electric Railway.

The conference related to details of the bid which the Pacific Electric officials will submit today for the construction of the street railway on San Pedro, which will cross the old boulevard line, the proposed municipal railway to the harbor.

DANCE HALL PETITION.
SIXTEEN THOUSAND NAMES.

The petition demanding a referendum vote on the question of taking practically all limitations from the conduct of dance halls, was filed with the City Clerk last yesterday. It is said to contain 16,000 names and the work of the clerk will be heavy.

What question the people of the city will next be called upon to decide by ballot would be hard to guess. It may possibly be to regulate the color of hose to be worn at the dances.

Change in Bulkhead Lines.
The Harbor Commission received notification yesterday that the War Department has granted it permission to reconstruct the Pico-street bulkhead at Wilmington along a new line four feet east of the old bulkhead line, 400 feet in length and extending down south from the intersections of Pico and Water streets. The bulkhead will be used to maintain the cut-off for sewers in Pico and other streets.

Will Order More Cars.
The Board of Public Utilities has received from E. A. Ryan, vice president of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, a letter in reply to the board's inquiry regarding the order of additional cars. The reply states that as soon as a car that is thoroughly satisfactory is decided upon, the corporation will order new cars in excess of the present inventory recommended by the board, and that if it is found that trailers can be operated successfully without delay in the movement of cars, enough will be ordered to use during the rush hours of traffic.

Dunn States in Letter that he believes the method of the interurban cars to San Pedro street will greatly relieve the street congestion on Main, First and Seventh streets, and that this will also bring about the better distribution of car traffic on Spring street and Broadway.

City Hall Brevities.
The Legislation Committee of the Council decided yesterday to recommend the repeal of the ordinance regulating billboards so as to limit their height to ten feet, outsize, and to limit the number of billboards to one on each lot.

John M. Kelley, attorney for Ringling Brothers, Circus, and Bailey and Forepaugh & Sons, appeared before the Legislation Committee of the Council yesterday and made a strong plea for the repeal of the ordinance prohibiting the keeping of carnivorous wild animals within an area that takes in practically the entire southern residential district, and would prevent the use of a four-acre tract on West Washington street that has been the regular stand for circuses for several years. Kelley wants a change whereby a bond can be required for insurance that the grounds will be kept sanitary and thoroughly cleaned up after the performances. Herbert Goudge represented the property owners who demanded the ordinance and Miss Mary C. Foy, whose land is used by the circuses, also appeared. The subject was sent to the Council without recommendation.

The Board of Public Works is to recharter its work this week so that there will be a more equitable division of labor. President Hubbard's presence will be required in the office most of the time, in order that he may sign official documents, and some of the duties assumed by other members heretofore will be added to his duties under the new regime.

Commissioner Johnson, head of the Los Angeles Aqueduct Bureau, stated yesterday that there is a possibility of the State Highway Commission making an offer to the city for the Mono-cement plant. A minimum price of $250,000 has been fixed by the city, although the plant represents an investment of $815,000.

At the Courthouse.

IS LENIENT FOR MOTHER'S SAKE.

WAYWARD SON GRANTED THREE YEARS' PROBATION.

Court Apparently Disregards Recommendation of Capt. Dodds, Past Record Not Good, According to Report to Judge—Evil Companions Are Blamed.

A mother's love for a son tempered justice with mercy in a suit in the Superior Court yesterday. Opposed to the crime for which George B. Ryan, late theatrical manager, was convicted was this mother's love, and instead of sending Ryan to jail for one year Judge Wilbur suspended sentence, placing him on probation for three years.

Ryan's record, according to this report of Probation Officer Dodds, is not to his credit. January 14, 1908, he was fined $50 for vagrancy; two years later he was fined $10 for disturbing the peace, and a year after that he was arrested for carrying a weapon, the crime not being proven. Capt. Dodds recommended that probation be denied.

Ryan's defense was contributing to the delinquency of May Thomas, known as Ladene Earl, who figured in the preliminary steps of the Guy Eddy case. May was taken into the chorus by Ryan, the evidence showed, and she alleged was compelled to live with him. Ryan, however, was promised professional advancement.

The aged mother pleaded for her son, she said he was a good boy until he began to associate with evil companions. The court warned Ryan not to engage in work which has to do with the employment of girls and to tread the straight and narrow path. In the work of reformation, the court said, his mother will assist by seeing to it that he associates regularly to the probation officer.

QUESTION OF NAME.
FAIR PLAINTIFFS TUMBLER.

The appearance of Mrs. Edith M. Sutch in the divorce court yesterday was an embarrassing and painful experience. According to custom the plaintiff is asked to give her name. This must be as it is written in the complaint.

Mrs. Sutch, a decidedly attractive-looking young woman, blushed and said: "Edith Mariana."

"That isn't your name," said Judge Monroe.

Mrs. Sutch appeared dazed. The positive declaration of the court that her name wasn't her name, got her goat. In the vernacular of Clerk Hughes. She appealed helplessly to her counsel, Arthur Norton.

"Edith Mariana Sutch," prompted Norton.

"I don't want your counsel to tell me," retorted the court. "If you don't know your name I will have to continue the case until you learn it."

Mrs. Sutch brightened. "Why, of course, I know it," she said. "Edith Mariana Sutch is my name. My husband's name is John E. Sutch."

Mrs. Sutch's chain of husband with desertion. The decree was granted.

LOSE HOMESTEAD.
COURT DECIDES LITIGATION.

Title to the homestead claimed by the heirs of Francesca Rios Marquez de Pena in Santa Monica Canyon, valued at $10,000, is vested in the Title Insurance and Trust Company by the judgment of Judge Wilbur, rendered yesterday in the suit in judgment brought by the company several weeks ago. This is the second trial of the action, Judge Finch having found judgment for the company.

The Pena litigation had bearing on two connected titles to the property was formerly vested in the mother, and by conveyance and re-conveyance to the company. The Pena family removed to Chile many years ago. Before her death, Mrs. Pena executed and delivered the deed to her husband. It remained with the family until 1905, when Pena's home in Chile was destroyed by an earthquake and with it the deed.

FIGHT NOT OVER.
GALE CHILDREN'S CUSTODY.

The disposition of the Gale children whose custody is sought by the mother, Mrs. Franc Franklin, and their grandparents, L. D. Gale, a banker of New York, will be determined by Judge Wilbur Monday. Gale said yesterday he will be satisfied if the boy and girl are placed in any good institution where they will be properly reared, and the mother, having charge of them on the ground that she is not a fit person.

Mrs. Franklin scored a point yesterday through the testimony of Dr. Southworth of the County Hospital, who said that after an operation, she is now in better physical condition to take care of the children.

The court declared the children, David, aged 1, and Laura, 5 years old, dependent.

WILL PROBATED.
HOTEL MAN'S BUSY LIFE.

The will of the late Abner L. Ross was probated yesterday. Under its provisions the widow, Mrs. Anna C. Ross, has a life interest in the estate and at her death, the property is to be equally divided between their son and daughter, Ruby Ross, and Mrs. Anna Ross Harris. The estate is valued at $125,000.

Ross established the Hotel Rosslyn.

ALL PLEAD GUILTY.
Fifteen automobile drivers and taxicabmen, arrested for having driven on the wrong side of Sunset boulevard, entered pleas of guilty before Police Judge Rose yesterday and were fined $5 each.

NECKLACE STOLEN.
Jack Moore, who says he formerly was a motion picture actor, but more recently a laborer, was arrested yesterday by Detective Jones and brought to the police station. He was charged with the theft of a $75 necklace from Mrs. Thomas Conlan at Arcadia. Moore was working on Conlan's ranch when he allegedly stole the necklace. He will be tried in Police Court today.

Serbian Wait Told Pitiful Story of Having Been Sold to Gypsies—Officers Investigating.

Evelyn Mitchell, a Serbian girl, 17 years old, told officers of the Humane Society yesterday that a gypsy chased her eight years ago from her home in a Montana orphan asylum for $300, and that since she has been sold to give him all her earnings from that source.

She asserted that on Wednesday night, when she gave him $21, the result of her day's labor at a little stand on Main street, he was disappointed, and made her sing and dance before a group of men that evening.

She complained of this treatment to an American girl, who in turn told Patrolman McFadden. He sought Evelyn and turned her over to the Humane Society. Judge Wilbur yesterday ordered the girl detained until the case could be further investigated.

Luncheon will be served at the Glenwood, Riverside, where the delegates will be guests of Dist. Atty. Evans of Riverside county.

The itinerary will include Smiley Heights, Redlands. Supper will be served at San Bernardino, with District Attorney Jones and his family in party cars will leave for the city at 9 o'clock a.m. on this excursion. Business sessions of the convention will be sandwiched in between the gaieties.

DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT.
William Burgess, No. 3234, South Benton way, fell down the elevator shaft of a Broadway store yesterday from the first floor to the basement and was severely bruised. He said he thought the car was waiting for him and stepped through the shaft door without looking.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

That High Line.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—To Editor of The Times: I believe a large majority of the voters of this city are with you in your opposition to the Graham plan for a high line ditch to San Dimas for the distribution of the aqueduct water. Mr. Graham may have in mind to supply the water so persistently advocating the building of this line, aside from those made public.

In looking over the situation I find San Dimas is at an elevation of 903 feet and lies approximately twenty-five miles east of here and but a few miles north of the La Habra Valley. Mr. Graham and his friends are heavily interested. These lands lie at an elevation of about 400 feet and are only a few miles from the present plant, which is very expensive because of the fact of having to raise it to the level of the aqueduct.

With the aqueduct water delivered at San Dimas at an elevation of 903 feet it would be a simple and inexpensive matter by gravity down through Brea Canyon to irrigate the lands above mentioned.

I think the above suggestions will develop into a good story if you will follow up the lines indicated.

POETRY AND TOWN LOTS.

Author of "Mission Play" Pleads With Reality Men to Capitalize Sentiment of the Southwest.

At the last meeting in 1913, 200 members of the Los Angeles Real Estate Exchange at their weekly luncheon yesterday heard John Steven McGroarty speak with feeling upon the value of sentiment to business.

Literally the subject of his discourse is to tell them how present values may be discounted and how current good fortune may receive some staggering blow, but he declared that California's heritage of memory will endure forever and urged real estate men in their future transactions to bear in mind the peculiar intrinsic value of California's history.

Of Father Junipero Serra, McGroarty spoke lovingly and with admiration as not only the first, but the greatest of California real estate dealers and promoters. He had been the great defender of the mission lands.

Sentiment rules the world, McGroarty declared, and tens of thousands of eastern tourists make Southern California their mecca because of the missions which happily lie in ruins. Wherever an ancient cross is restored to a hilltop or the crumbling walls of an old mission are rescued from the traveler is offered an un-failing lure. The tourist crop is one which never fails and when the tourist comes, McGroarty said, it is not the women of treasured sentiments nor the poets and idealists who get his money, but it is those who have something to sell. He brought the dealers in land, therefore, never to forget the cash value of sentiment, but always to be ready to subscribe to funds for the preservation and the restoration of the mission land marks.

In Europe, he said, the people are not sentimentalists, but they are careful to preserve every vestige of old times because they know that it attracts the tourist and the American's money and land which would bring but a little for its most careful cultivation is worth thousands as the tomb of days, people and action that are no more.

"Mileage Book Cutter Invented by the Railroad."

Simple in construction, easy of manipulation and already filling a real necessity in railroad and other transportation circles is a cutter adaptable principally for mileage and scrip books invented by A. H. Roberts, No. 1047 East Forty-second street.

It is a metallic strip so made as to be easily bound into a book containing a long strip of paper from which pieces are expected to be indiscriminately clipped. The cutter is fastened into the front cover of the book, instead of the back, as are the patents which the Roberts invention are designed to replace. By pressing the cutter against the folded strip of paper under the book, the strip of paper at any desired place without being forced to turn the book inside out and use the old-style cutter on the back cover.

Although Mr. Roberts only recently secured a patent upon his device and brought it to the attention of the railroad, he has received several large orders, and assurances of other transportation companies.

Through Rand, McNally & Co., Roberts has placed an order for 25,000, and has assurances that the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe roads will use them exclusively on their mileage and scrip books. The Salt Lake road will use them, Roberts says, and the Illinois Central will use them on its mileage and scrip books.

The Southern Pacific wired Roberts yesterday for a quantity of the cutters to be rebid in its present books.
